NEW PRESIDENT FOR CLAY BRICK ASSOCIATION

David Matlou has been appointed as the President of the Clay Brick Association (CBA), effective immediately. The announcement was made at a formal banquet, following the 43 rd Annual General Meeting and conference.

Outgoing President, Clive Archer, says, "David brings a wealth of experience in the clay brick industry to the table. Having previously worked for Corobrik and now heading up Kopano Bricks, in Gauteng, we look forward to him using his astute leadership and sales and marketing skills to take the CBA forward."

In his acceptance speech David commended Clive Archer and his board for the excellent leadership they have provided.

He also announced the new board, which includes Dirk Meyer as Vice President, Pierre Sanson as Executive Director and Colin Meyer as Treasurer. Other board members include Mark Hunter-Smith, Allin Dangers, Enrico Rademeyer, Jan Vorster, Clive Archer, Jaap Stolp, Peter du Trevou and Eric Offerman

Executive selections were made following a formal procedure in which members of the CBA submit written proposals for nominees. The nominations are put forward at the AGM, where the board is then appointed.

"I am confident that we will continue to exceed members expectations and take this organisation to the next level,"concludes David Matlou.
